1. OTIE profile

On the 2nd of February 2007, the Observatory on Tourism in the European Islands - OTIE was successfully founded in Palermo, where the Head Office is located.

It's a non-profit association constituted by public institutions, Universities, Research Center and, other international organisations of 7 European insular countries (Italy, Spain, France, Portugal, Greece, Malta, and Cyprus).

OTIE's principal objective is to support islands through statistical studies and research documents to identify current issues of tourism, EU project design, implementation, and training activities.

Thanks to the direct dialogue with the institutions, companies, and research centers on tourism, it offers support to insular realities to devise strategic, operative, and marketing plans for tourism because it has a vast network of contacts and a steadily updated benchmark on European tourism.

3. President profile:

Giovanni Ruggieri (1970) graduated with honours in Economics from the University of Palermo with the thesis Economic impact of tourism in Sicily. He achieved the title of Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in Tourism Sciences at the University of Palermo. He is a Researcher and Adjunct Professor of Applied Economics at the University of Palermo, a Visiting Professor at Malaga University, a Lecturer in Wien, Leads, Pecs and a Coordinator of the International master's degree "Hospitality Management and Food & Beverage" in collaboration with the Florida University. He is the author of several articles on tourism published in international scientific journals concerning the economic impact issues, the birth and development of tourist destinations and the growth of tourism economies in the island territories. He is President of the Observatory on Tourism for Islands Economy (OTIE), of which also he chairs the Scientific Committee made up of professors and international partners. With particular attention to island realities, research topics concern: the tourism economy, innovation, micro-enterprises, networks, and dynamics of aggregation of enterprises, tourist districts and tourist destinations, and tourism in fragile or outlying regions such as islands. He is inserted in the list of experts on tourism of the Prime Minister's Office of the Italian Government. He cooperates with the UNESCO Foundation to define the UNESCO Management Plan in Sicily.
